About Me

I am a joint PhD researcher in labour economics and sociology of labour at Ghent University and Vrije Universiteit Brussel with an interdisciplinary background. My present work focuses on the determinants of and contextual factors contributing to (ethnic) hiring discrimination. I have previously worked for consulting firms on data governance, data analytics, and HR projects. Besides, I have obtained a master's degree in industrial and organisational psychology and a business degree in general management.

Trivia

Sucker for R

I am a sucker for everything related to R (ggplot2, Shiny, Xaringan...), my go-to environment for statistical computing. The content of this very resume is written in R, using R Markdown, the `{{vitae}}` package, and LaTeX typesetting.

Passionate about electronic music

I have been playing the piano since I was 9 years old, albeit less frequently in the past few years. Moreover, between the ages of 15 and 22, I was active as a (electronic) music artist, producer, and event manager.

Fond of the sea

As a teenager, I longed to spend my summer vacations at the seaside. From my 18th birthday onwards, after an intensive year of training, I was able to combine this fondness for the sea with a student job as a lifeguard at the Belgian coast.
